Bringing Together High-Impact Talent & Customized Project Solutions

In today's world, Clinical Research is not the same as it used to be, and finding high-impact talent proves to be a time and cost consuming activity for organizations. To ensure the right teams and strategies are in place at your organization, B. McLaughlin Associates, Inc. (BMA) has partnered with Yoh Clinical to create a new project option to meet your unique outsourcing needs. BMA provides the strategic clinical trial solution while Yoh Clinical provides the high-impact talent (on a full-time or contract basis). This exceptional partnership brings together talent and customized project solutions allowing organizations to save time, money, and achieve project goals.

BMA is a specialized Clinical Research Organization (CRO) that, over the past 15 years, has advanced into many areas of clinical trials support requiring quick, efficient turnaround of clinical and regulatory documentation and data throughout the world. Our success has resulted from an unchanged approach that has stood the test of time – provide quality, commitment, excellence and value to our clients in order to support their clinical trial needs. Our commitment to our clients and their projects, as well as consistent quality of work is the foundation of our company. Tell BMA your needs and we will work to provide a comprehensive solution for you.

Yoh Clinical has been delivering high-impact talent and support for some of America's leading companies for more than 15 years and has focused exclusively on supporting the needs of some of the leading companies in the global pharmaceutical, biotech and medical device industries. Their pipeline of candidates is proactively recruited from a network of qualified, high-impact talent. While industry competitors take a reactive approach, Yoh Clinical's proactive efforts will provide you with instant access to high-end candidates with the skills needed to drive your business.
