Our goal is to provide world class support services that keep your projects on time, within budget, and compliant to all regulatory authorities.

B. McLaughlin Associates, Inc. (BMA) has over 15 years of experience as a woman-owned CRO providing targeted, cost-effective clinical research support. We have extensive experience across many therapeutic areas with a strong focus in Oncology and Biologics. Our customizable team has partnered with leading companies to successfully complete projects on time and with the highest level of compliance. At BMA, we have the capabilities and knowledge to tailor our services based upon your needs. Allow us to help you achieve your goals.

Flexible solutions for your business needs

YOUR NEEDS, OUR SOLUTION

BMA recognizes the importance of a successfully run clinical trial. We have industry experienced staff to enhance your study team. In-house & field based teams will professionally run your projects to ensure timely completion of all contracted tasks. We will do this with the highest level of quality, accountability, and compliance. Whether your outsourcing requirements are for the full life cycle of a clinical trial or just for a specific need, BMA is here to provide a flexible solution.

COST-EFFECTIVE EXPERTISE

Understanding your need to stay within budget, we provide our expertise at a highly competitive rate. We believe that quality should never be sacrificed to keep costs in line.

Our experienced staff is comprised of clinical and regulatory professionals from the pharmaceutical, device, and medical industries with backgrounds specializing in Study Management, Data Management, Nursing, and Clinical Research Monitoring.

PARTNERSHIP FOR SUCCESS

At BMA, we strive to develop a true partnership with our clients. We have found this collaborative approach to be the most beneficial, providing excellent results for both the study team and project. Our staff will provide the highest quality support to ensure that deadlines are met, while allowing your internal resources to focus on other critical functions.

CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIPS

Customer relationships are critical. BMA recognizes that your success requires accurate, timely, and precise communication. We provide highly professional customer service to you, your study staff, and clinical customers.
